REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, Feb. 3:—Live poultry receipts today were 5 cars Western, 1 Southwestern and fully 2 cars by express. The extreme high prices on fowls attracted increased shipments in this direction, besides the demand from the East Side dealers fell off to such an extent that there was no possibility of a clearance this week, and the market declined to lie on fowls, but roosters, turkeys, ducks and geese cleared at full late prices. A few cars more are still due this week.
Fowls, ife. Other quotations unchanged.

Dressed poultry—Receipts to-day 3,35 pkgs.; receipts of fresh fowls were light. Buyers turned their attention to frozen, as the latter could be had at 13%c, while very famely boxed frozen fowls were obtainable at 14c. The inquiry for fresh killed was consistent with the light receipts, and market was about sustained at 14½c on prime, while very famely boxed fowls were strained up to lic. Ordinary Western and Southwestern were ertain crop and weather conditions and rather colorless statistical news cause most traders to play a waiting game in the local grain market yesterday. Only a few professionals and scalpers were busy in the pit. Corn was the strong spot of a dull and uninteresting session. At the opening there was some inquiry for wheat, based on firm foreign markets and light local and Northwestern receipts. Though many traders foreign markets and light local and Northwestern receipts. Though many traders seemed to regard the weather outlook as bullish, there was not enough outside buying interest to justify anything like a good buying movement. After the early buying the market was weak and draggy until near the end of the session, when the strength of corn caused a somewhat better feeling. The cash demand was light and sales for export were extremely small.

Corn was the strong spot. Though transactions were not heavy, there was enough buying to work a fair advance in face of the fact that most of the trading was by local pit operators. Foreign markets were firm and receipts were moderate. There was an excellent cash demand and Chicago manipulators were said to be again active on the buying side.

May corn opened the up and closed that he up.

May oats closed %c up. Produce prices were generally steady to higher, with moderate receipts and a good sues were on the decline. Yesterday's bank clearings were $8,882,119, balances $1,467,255. Discount rates were steady between 5 and 6 per cent. Spot cotton was lic higher in the local market.

CORN CLOSES HIGHER ON MODERATE BUYING.

WHEAT TRADERS PLAY A WAITING GAME.

Statistical News Is Mainly Bullish, but Outside Interest Is Light.

Speculative strength in corn had the effect of strengthening the other grains in yesterday's market. Trading was again in yesterday's market. Trading was again in small volume and mainly in the hands of local professionals and speculators. There was a great deal of scalping and very few outside orders. Firm foreign markets, un-certain weather and light Northwestern receipts caused a slight advance at the open-ing, but the interest was not well sus-tained and the market soon dropped below tailed and the market soon dropped below the closing price of the previous day. Local receipts were again heavy and the outward movement was slow. Only five loads were sold for export and millers were inactive. In the last hour there was a slight adance in line with corn.

May wheat opened 1-16c up and sold at:

Receipts moderate and stocks in store continued to decrease. Foreign markets were firm and there was a good cash demand. May corn 160 kg up and sold at: CHECKO, 124c, 126124c, 124c, 124c, 1240

NATIVE CATTLE—Beef Steers—The total supply of cattle in the native division was about of the same proportions as were on offer a week ago and the supply of steers not much different in numbers, although averaging better in quality and finish. Supplies were on the market in good time and as the demand was good a ready clearance was effected early. Some coarse heavy fat cattle were reported a little slow, but trading finally wound up on a good, healthy, steady basis.
